Final Performance of "Star of Ethiopia" Will Be Tonight.

"The Star of Ethiopia" a pagent depicting the history of the negro race, was witnessed by a much larger crowd Wednesday night than witnessed the initial performance.

Great interest in the pageant has been displayed during the past week by the colored residents of the city and it is expected that thousands will witness the final appearance here this evening. It is planned to present the pageant in other cities. Part of the proceeds from the productions here will go toward the school playground fund, the use the schools having been allowed for preparation of the affair.

owned Mines Complicates Relations with Mexico.

A new issue has been raised between H. E. Bates, one of Washington's most the United States and Villa by the latter's announced determination to operate American-owned mining properties in territory under his control.

The news that the American Smelting and Refining Company had been ordered to resume operations at its Chihuahua properties by today was followed yesterday by an announcement from the Villa agency here that all such properties would be taken over by the governor of would be taken over by the governor of Chihushua and operated for the benefit of the thousands of Mexican workmen thrown into idleness by the shutting down of the plants. The State Department has already pro tested to Villa against this order to the American Smelting and Refining Com-pany. That the matter would also be taken up with Carranza was asserted at the department yesterday following the call of William Loeb, jr., representing the company, which is a Guggenheim concern. Mr. Loeb presented the case to Counselor Polk, and was assured that the State Department would do all in its of the company.

The Villa agency announcement denies that the action taken against the mining properties is a reprisal against the se-lection of Carranza for recognition by the United States, asserting that the step was decided on before the action of the The State Department yesterday denied
